Breeze Airways expands CMH service to three new destinations

COLUMBUS, OH – Only months after launching service out of John Glenn Columbus International Airport (CMH) in July 2021, Breeze Airways is announcing service to three new destinations not currently served out of CMH:

- Twice weekly service to Providence, RI (PVD)
- Twice weekly service to Jacksonville, FL (JAX)
- Twice weekly service to Savannah, GA (SAV)

“Breeze Airways has been a welcome addition to John Glenn International, providing Columbus travelers with nonstop access to several in demand destinations,” said Joseph R. Nardone, President & CEO of the Columbus Regional Airport Authority. “We are pleased to see this new airline continue to grow, offering passengers even more options out of CMH.”

John Glenn International was among the first airports selected for the launch of the new airline. JobsOhio was instrumental in securing the service through its Air Service Restoration Program, which aims to connect more people to more parts of the country, attracting businesses and talent in the process.

“Vibrant air service is an important component of Ohio’s growing economy, and JobsOhio is pleased to announce more success with this program,” said J.P. Nauseef, JobsOhio President and CEO. “Breeze Airways has added three more routes from Columbus and two routes from Akron-Canton. Ohio’s businesses and consumer travel are creating highly sustainable routes and making Ohio’s airports a bigger and bigger draw for future service.”

“We welcomed Breeze Airways to Columbus and Akron-Canton less than a year ago, and it’s great to hear that they already intend to expand their flights coming into and out of Ohio,” said Ohio Governor Mike DeWine. “Expanded air service like this is important for Ohio’s economy because it gives industries increased access to Ohio’s markets and provides a financial boost for our local communities and companies.”

Service begins summer 2022. The airline will more than double its fleet this year including the addition of 13 Airbus A220 aircraft. Guests may choose from three price bundles that are offered as ‘Nice’, ‘Nicer’, and ‘Nicest’ service. To book a flight, visit FlyBreeze.com.
